

NICK ELLIS

Sales Manager Australia & New Zealand – Mews

A tourism veteran of 20 years, Nick has climbed the ranks through every operational role in hotels starting off as a room service attendant then progressing through food and beverage, front office, guest services and reservations. This gave him the experience to move into management and leadership roles in Front Office, Rooms Division, Food and Beverage which led to his former role as the General Manager for Ovolo Inchcolm, a luxury boutique hotel.

Nick's career has spanned numerous destinations and brands including Sofitel Luxury Hotels, Stamford Hotels & Resorts, Royal on the Park, Mantra Hotels, Pullman Hotels and Peppers Retreats. Prior to breathing new life as GM into Brisbane's boutique Ovolo Inchcolm, Nick was the pre-opening GM for a new lifestyle brand, Tribe Hotels.

Nick's effervescent personality and engaging style has seen his success in product and people development and his keen interest in innovation and technology has led him to his current challenge launching Mews Systems to the Queensland tourism market. Mews is the leading hotel tech provider in Europe, focussing on enhancing the guest experience by empowering hotel teams through technology.

