There is a sign marking the start of Red Rock Walking Trail. Lock your vehicle and take your valuables with you. The beaches and the scenery are superb! You may even sight turtles and a dolphin or two. The track is to the right as you enter the beach and to Red Rock will take a good hour of walking or several hours if you wish to stop, view the scenery or take a swim.

	During the winter months, look for whales passing through as they migrate on their journey north.
10:30am	Visit Agnes Water Museum          Address: 71 Springs Road, Agnes Water          Phone: (07) 4974 9511          Website: https://agneswatermuseum.com.au/ The Agnes Water Museum pays tribute to the region’s aboriginal and pioneering past and its unique maritime history. The museum’s collection was started by Arthur Jeffery in 1952. It was originally located within the Agnes Water Caravan Park, alongside Tom &amp; Beth’s family home, with Beth taking in visitors in Arthur’s absence. The main building in the current location, was opened on 26th May 1990, to celebrate the Bicentennial in 1988. The additional building from the Agnes Water Caravan Park was relocated alongside the new building. Over the years the collection has grown, to include significant items such as a copy of Cook’s log, photos of plants found by botanists Joseph Banks and Daniel Solander. Charts drawn by Matthew Flinders, and other items relating to the maritime discoveries of the coast, the original telescope from the first lighthouse on the Queensland Coast and many historic photographs. The history of the Miriam Vale Shire, aboriginal artifacts, and bark paintings, plus many more items of interest.
